

FEBRUARY 2018
THE NEW YORK TIMES TRAVEL
MAGAZINE

In Copenhagen, Hotel Rooms Worth Traveling For

BY GEMMA ZOE PRICE

Hotel Alexandra

All rooms at Hotel Alexandra pay tribute to Danish modern design: Doubles and singles feature either 1960s or 1970s-inspired furnishings and colors. But the real throwbacks are its top-floor suites, which honor individual Danish designers and are decorated with original pieces. The Verner Panton corner suite is the hotel's most visually arresting space, with its shocking pink entranceway, purple-blue-toned bedroom and all-orange living area. To stay there is to immerse in Panton's bold, colorful and futuristic world.

Edited by Hotel Alexandra